HOW WE CAN HELP

Families contact us when

- [ ] A parent is moving into a residence and the family home is being sold.
- [ ] An estate must be settled by a fixed date.
- [ ] They are downsizing and want a lifetime of belongings placed with people who will value them.
- [ ] Family members live at a distance and cannot manage weeks of sorting.

OUR FEES

Our fee is mainly a share of what sells, agreed in writing before work begins. Research, photography, staffing and marketing are included. Costs such as disposal, dump fees or a dumpster are quoted up front and invoiced before the sale.

Where a full clearance of the property is requested, it is quoted in advance. If the assessment shows that a sale is not the right course for your situation, we will tell you so.

BEGIN WITH AN ASSESSMENT

Complimentary, and without obligation

We visit the property, review the contents, and give you a candid assessment of what has value. You receive a written proposal whether or not you decide to proceed.

A lifetime of belongings, cared for with respect.

OUR PROCESS

Four steps, from first visit to final handover

1. Assessment
   We visit the property with you, identify what has value, and provide a written proposal. Complimentary and unhurried.

2. Your selections
   Photographs, documents and the pieces the family wishes to keep are set aside. Nothing leaves the home without your approval.

3. Preparation and sale
   Our team sorts, researches, prices and sells. Cataloguing, photography, staffing and marketing are handled for you; your presence is not required.

4. Settlement and clearance
   You receive an itemised statement and payment. Remaining contents are donated or removed, and the property is returned to you on the agreed date.

THREE WAYS TO SELL

We advise. You decide.

ON SITE

Estate sale

The home is opened to the public over one or more days, with every item priced and our staff on site. Suited to a full household that must be sold promptly.

ONLINE

Timed auction

Each piece is photographed, catalogued and offered to bidders across Ontario, closing on a fixed date. Suited to fine furniture, art, silver, jewellery and collections, and to properties that cannot be opened to the public.

RETAIL

Fixed-price shop

Individual pieces offered at a set price through our Bowmanville shop and website, with shipping across Canada and the United States. Suited to items without a deadline.

Most estates use a combination. The assessment determines which pieces are best suited to each.
